RE: Change of Future Land Use of Property from Rural to Outlying Suburban

To Whom It May Concern:

The Lee Plan is Lee County's comprehensive plan which, in part, establishes allowable residential densities based on future land use categories identified on the Future Land Use Map and identifies areas that can be served by Lee County Utilities (LCU) on the LCU Future Water Service Areas Map.

Your property, located at 12241 Old Rodeo Drive, Alva, FL 33920, is currently designated Rural on the Future Land Use Map, which allows a maximum residential density of one dwelling unit per acre, and is not within the LDC Future Water Service Area.

Lee County Department of Community Development staff is recommending to the Board of County Commissioners that the future land use designation of your property be changed to Outlying Suburban. The Outlying Suburban future land use category is described as areas which are rural in character with planned or existing infrastructure to support higher density development. The maximum density in this category is three dwelling units per acre.

The inclusion of your property within the Outlying Suburban future land use category does not restrict the existing use(s) on your property, but does provide the opportunity for you to pursue future increased development if so desired.

A hearing to consider this recommendation will be held in conjunction with case number CPA2021-00015 by the Board of County Commissioners of Lee County on September 21, 2022 at 9:30 AM in the Board Chambers located at 2120 Main Street, Fort Myers. Your attendance at this hearing is not required.

You are encouraged to call or email me if you have any questions or concerns regarding this land use change recommendation.
